

International ambitions – without moving abroad

The world's major challenges cannot be solved in one country alone. They must be solved together and across national borders. Did you know, that you can supplement your courses with international online courses offered by six leading technical universities in Europe, so you can be part of the solution.

What do you gain from it?

1. An international outlook and network, without having to move abroad.
2. The opportunity to go deeper into a subject not taught at your home university.
3. More flexibility in your schedule.

Places on the courses are allocated on a first-come, first-served basis, so hurry in and register your enrollment now!

International ambitions – without moving abroad

The world's major challenges cannot be solved in one country alone. They must be solved together and across national borders. Did you know, that you can supplement your courses with international online courses offered by six leading technical universities in Europe, so you can be part of the solution.

What do you gain from it?

1. An international outlook and network, without having to move abroad.
2. The opportunity to go deeper into a subject not taught at your home university.
3. More flexibility in your schedule.

Places on the courses are allocated on a first-come, first-served basis, so hurry in and register your enrollment now!

